About the Competition

The Lev Vlassenko Piano Competition and Festival is a major Australian piano event, held biennially in Brisbane. It provides talented Australian and New Zealand based performers between 16 and 30 with a major platform to develop professionally and artistically, and to compete for substantial cash prizes.

The competition was established in 1999 to honour the memory of the late Professor Lev Vlassenko, the world-renowned international concert pianist and teacher. Lev had a close affiliation with Australia, acting as jury member of the Sydney International Piano Competition and International Professor Consultant to the Queensland and Sydney Conservatoriums. He spent the last two years of his life teaching piano at the Queensland Conservatorium Griffith University, where he was awarded an Honorary Doctorate. His daughter Natasha Vlassenko and her husband Oleg Stepanov are the event's Artistic Directors.

Running in conjunction with the Competition, the Festival offers a wide range of events for students, teachers, and lovers of piano, with masterclasses, recitals by visiting international artists and a program for high school students.

The Competition will be held in Brisbane from Sunday 30 June to Friday 12 July 2019.

There will be four rounds. There will be up to 20 competitors in Round 1 & 2 which will consist of recital performances as follows:

- Round 1 - to a total of 20 minutes
- Round 2 - 25-35 minutes

There will be up to ten (10) competitors in Round 3 which will be a 50 to 60-minute recital of own choice repertoire. This recital must include a major work of at least 15 minutes duration and a commissioned Australian work.

There will be up to four (4) competitors in Round 4, the final round, which will take place on Friday 12 July 2019. Finalists will play a concerto with the Queensland Symphony Orchestra in the Conservatorium Theatre at the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University, South Bank. All prize winners will be announced, and their prizes will be awarded at the conclusion of Round 4.

The official ballot draw for the order of performance throughout the competition will take place prior to the start of the competition. This order will not be altered except at the discretion of the Jury in case of illness or other special circumstances.

The Jury

The Lev Vlassenko Piano Competition Jury includes eminent Australian and international concert pianists. Members of the Jury will be invited to give recitals and masterclasses.

Any contestant who makes an attempt or on whose behalf an attempt is made to communicate with any member of the Jury before the completion of the competitor's participation may be disqualified. The decisions of the Jury are final and may not be challenged. If a Jury member teaches or has taught a contestant within two years of the commencement of the competition, the Jury member will abstain from the discussion and voting regarding that contestant. A masterclass to the contestant within six months of the first day of the competition is also to be deemed to be teaching.

Auditions

Auditions will take place in Australia and New Zealand, in March & April 2019. Applicants will be advised by email of the date and location of auditions. Applicants will be expected to prepare and play from memory:

- A virtuoso study from Round 1, and
- A first movement of a classical sonata from Round 2; and
- A piece from the list specified for Round 2; and
- A major work from Round 3; and
- The first movement of the concerto the contestant has nominated to play in Round 4.

Applicants will be responsible for providing their own accompanists and the costs of travelling to and from auditions and for associated living expenses. Details will be given to all applicants when they are advised of their audition.

Applicants who are overseas at the time must provide high-quality video of their performance, along with certified verification of the performance no later than Sunday 24 March 2019. Footage provided must be recorded after 1 October 2018 and no later than Sunday 24 March 2019.

The recording must be certified, and no editing is permitted.

Engagements

It is hoped that prize winners may be offered further performance opportunities. Pending the conclusion of current negotiations, no guarantee can be given that offers of engagements will eventuate.

Acceptance

Applicants will be advised whether or not they have been selected to compete in Brisbane. Selected competitors must complete and return the official acceptance form to the competition administrator.

Repertoire

All rounds must be played from memory and works must be chosen as specified in the competition repertoire provided below. A competitor cannot play a work more than once during the competition. All sonatas must be performed in their entirety. Any twentieth century works chosen must not be for prepared piano. The jury reserves the right to stop contestants who run over time. Changes to nominated repertoire may be made up to Sunday 19th May 2019 and then only with the written permission to the competition.

Competitors will register at the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University where they will receive rehearsal and performance timetables.

Attendance

We anticipate all contestants staying in Brisbane until the final round in order to participate in other festival activities. Early departures must be negotiated with the competition administration.

Travel and Accommodation

Competitors are responsible for payment for their travel to and from Brisbane.

For contestants coming from interstate or overseas, the Lev Vlassenko Piano Competition is offering limited, complementary accommodation at King's College, University of Queensland, in St Lucia. Please email contact@lev-vlassenko.com for further details. <https://www.kings.uq.edu.au/>

Insurance

Competitors are responsible for their own personal and property insurance. The competition accepts no responsibility whatsoever for any sickness or accident or for any damage to or loss of competitors' belongings while in transit or during their stay in Brisbane.

Practice & Rehearsals

Set times for warm-up and rehearsal will be allocated in the competition structure. Practice room availability and schedules will be advised upon entrance to competition. Three days have been allocated for finalists to rehearse with the Queensland Symphony Orchestra and the Conductor before Round 4.

Performance Rights

All competitors will be contracted exclusively to the competition. The competition has the right, without payment of fees, to:

- televise, film, video, tape, broadcast, webcast or photograph all rounds of the competition.
- produce and distribute, without limit, recordings of all rounds of the competition, whether in whole or in part;
- produce documentary or feature films.

All approaches to and from the media as well as sponsors must be made through and with the approval of the competition. Competitors may be required to be available for media calls arranged by the competition.

Broadcasting

ABC Radio and Radio 4MBS Classic FM may record for radio and broadcast all competition rounds. Performances may be recorded and webcast on the internet via the competition website.

Other Activities

Contestants may be asked to participate in festival activities including, but not limited to, recitals in High Schools, Q&A sessions with emerging piano students and other media engagements. Although we expect that finalists will be available where appropriate, finalists do reserve the right to decline an invitation to participate in these activities.

Acknowledgements

The prize winner shall for a period of ten (10) years after the date of the receipt of such prize include a clause in their curriculum vitae, biographical notes and performance programs, as an acknowledgement of their having been a prize-winner in this competition.
